

ROTARIAN WRITES TO "BOYS AT HOME"

Interesting Letter On Principles
Of Rotary Sent Here By L.
P. Pettus—Meet Tonight

Discussion of the question of changing the hour of meeting from night to noon and the day of the week will occupy the attention of Richmond Rotarians at their regular weekly session at the Hotel Glyndon tonight. There will probably be several applications for new memberships brought up at this meeting.

The local Rotary Club has just received a very highly appreciated letter from a former Richmond man, who is a leading Rotarian of Savannah, Ga.—Luke P. Pettus. His many friends "back home," Rotarians and others, will be interested in what he writes:

Savannah, Ga., June 5, 1922

Mr. President and Rotarians:

Across the chasm of nearly a half century, colored by the roses from memory's path in a childhood in Kentucky, I would congratulate you upon the planting of Rotary in Richmond.

My name is Luke P. Pettus, born at Kingston, Ky., fifty-two years ago, a charter member of the Rotary Club of Savannah, I thank you.

I knew that Richmond of long ago when McCreary was in his prime, when Bronston was the vigorous prosecutor, and Smith was the powerful counselor.

I knew that Richmond which had only a branch of the Louisville & Nashville for rail transportation—long before the Kentucky Central bored its way through the cliffs along the Kentucky river to connect the capital of Madison with the outside world.

I knew that Richmond which served as a mobilization point for Kentucky mules, to be driven over the mountain trail for service in the cotton fields of the South.

I knew that Richmond which sent forth her sons to become chief executives of other states and ambassadors to foreign countries, and have felt the utmost pride in their services and achievements.

Knowing that Richmond of long ago and the sterling people who made it, it is most gratifying to me to know that the Rotary spirit has so developed in its posterity as to manifest itself in a Rotary Club.

Believe me, Mr. President, Rotary could not be planted in a more fertile soil. The brotherhood that exists between Kentuckians is the sweetest heritage that comes to one who has strayed from his native state. I have known it on the great Western plains where the cowboy reigned. I have known it in the frozen North where men staked all in the quest of gold. I have known it in mid ocean where a voice far up in the rigging would add a bar of "My Old Kentucky Home" to the roar of the seas. I have known it at the national capital where the Kentuckian never fails to measure up to his position and never fails to receive the inspiring sympathy of his fellow Kentuckians.

As you progress into Rotary, Mr. President, you will find it to be a reversal of theories which have masqueraded the ages as the truth.

It combats the contention that business and friendship are incompatible.

It impugns the idea that "business is business" and in its conduct practices not in keeping with the Golden Rule are permissible.

It nullifies the notion that money is all—the sum and substance of human happiness—just so it is acquired within the law.

It denies worthiness to no lawful and honorable occupation, and urges the acme of efficiency that the individual may all the better serve—serve his fellowmen, serve his country, serve his community.

It commits it converts to the sublime doctrine of Service Above Self and fuses them into a living, loving, active and indomitable force pleading higher business ethics and higher types of citizenship.

Rotary crowns Service with a matchless majesty. It contem-

WILLIAMS BLOCKS BONUS IN SENATE

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 8—An effort to present the soldiers' bonus bill to the Senate today was blocked by Senator Williams, democrat, of Mississippi. Chairman McCumber gave notice that he would make another effort later to get the measure to the Senate calendar.

Unanimous consent was required to present the bill and it was to McCumber's report that Williams, opponent of the bill, refused. Senator Ashurst, democrat, of Arizona, urged McCumber to move that the bill be received. McCumber said a gentleman's agreement that the tariff bill not be laid aside got controversial and the measure was prevented. McCumber said later he would ask that the tariff bill be laid aside and the bonus taken up. Borah, republican, of Idaho, opponent of the bonus, said he hoped both sides would be consulted. McCumber then said "This is an American bill and I hope we will be able to dispose of it as an American measure." Senator Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader, announced his opposition to the bill and said he would be glad if it could go over until after the November election so the people could voice their sentiments of the measure.

CASH ELIMINATED FROM BONUS BILL

(By Associated Press)

Washington, June 8—The soldiers' bonus bill was formally presented in the Senate today. In the accompanying report, Chairman McCumber placed the probable cost to the government at $3,845,000,000 spread over a period of 43 years. The most important change from the previous bills is the elimination of the cash bonus and reclamation features. As drafted, the bill would give the veterans the right to select any one of four plans which were previously announced.

NO LOAN TO GERMANY NOW

(By Associated Press)

Paris, France, June 8—All idea of an international loan to Germany was abandoned by the committee of bankers and they are meeting today to agree upon the form of their report to be submitted to the Reparations Commission. Unanimity of the lenders regarded as the prime requisite in making the loan, is said to be absent. Another condition was that the credit of Germany must be clearly outlined.

Six Years for Killing at Corbin

Williamsburg, Ky., June 8—George Lockhart was under sentence to serve six years in the penitentiary for the murder of Wiley Smith in Corbin in October 1920. He had been tried before and was sentenced to life imprisonment, but the case was reversed by the Court of Appeals.

It melts the icy heart of selfishness and causes it to burst into bloom with all those little kindnesses born of love and all those little sympathies that make life worth while.

I thank you.

CLASS DAY PROVES DELIGHTFUL TO ALL

Madison High School Graduates
Show Remarkable Historic Talent In Annual Event

On Wednesday evening at the Opera House, the Senior class of Madison High School gave their entertaining and enjoyable program which was so far beyond amateur performances that it took high rank in the professional class. Many who are fine judges of literary productions complimented all on the program on their ease and poise, saying they surpassed any high school graduates they ever saw. The house was packed and the audience enjoyed every number.

All the graduates who gave the regular class numbers before the play conducted themselves like veteran platform speakers, and surprised the audience with their flashes of wit and humor.

Mary Powers and Anna Catherine Hugely surpassed the expectations of their friends in originality, ease on the stage and excellent delivery. Those who rendered this part of the program were as follows: Dorothy Terrill, Mary Powers, Edna Mullinix, Marshall Hurst, Anna Catherine Hugely, Thelma McClintock, the high school orchestra and the graduates in the class song.

Then followed the class play, "The Laughing Cure," which, excepting the play of the bright and talented class of 1918, was the best play Madison High has had in many a year. The audience was kept in a hilarious mood and in a state of hearty laughter from start to finish.

The persons in the play, Lafon Wilson, Talton Stone, J. S. Blewins, Harold Gabby, Edna Mullinix, Dorothy Terrill, Josephine Yates, Betsy Igo and Kathleen O'Neil, showed unusual ease on the stage and manifested talent as players. Those who are in the class of professionals are Lafon Wilson, Betsy Igo, Edna Mullinix, Harold Gabby, and Dorothy Terrill.

As a whole the program was the best the city school has ever had and it set a high water mark for Madison High.

The formal commencement program for Thursday evening is found in another column.

MAGISTRATES REJECT TWO BRIDGE BIDS

Bids for the construction of two badly needed bridges in the county were rejected at the regular monthly meeting of the Fiscal Court Tuesday. One bridge is desired over Clear Creek between Union City and Doyleville. The Fiscal Court understood that promoters desiring the bridge would put up a quarter of the cost, but it seems they have failed to do this so far. A concrete bridge over this creek would cost $3,000, it was estimated. Another bridge is desired over Oldham's Branch near Panola. The promoters represented by Jesse Broadbuss, are ready with their part, it appears, but the court considered that bids were too high. A bid to build the bridge of steel was put in at $1,150 by Moynahan & Forbes, of Richmond, and a bid to build it of concrete was put in at $1,995 by the Luton Bridge Company. Neither of these bids provides for making the fill, however, and it was reported to the court that another firm had agreed to do the work for $1,250 and make the fills. All bids were rejected and new bids will be asked for.

Squire Dave Smith, of Berea, was the only magistrate absent when Judge Goodloe called the fiscal court to order and he was kept away by a funeral.

An order was entered providing for rock to be put on the Peasey's pike and rolled before the July term of court.

A contract for work on the Kinksville and Round Hill pike was let to Moynahan & Forbes at $42. An estimate will be made as to the cost of tarvia on this road, also.

The members of the Fiscal Court decided to make personal investigation of the road work being done in the county. The magistrates will accordingly visit all road work in a body on June 13th.

An appropriation of $1,000 to cover the cost of the county infirmary's expense was allowed. New Kentucky Statutes were allowed for Judge Goodloe, County Clerk Turley and will be ordered for the use of these officials.

Lexington Brewery To Be Prosecuted

Lexington Ky., June 8—Revocation proceedings against the Lexington Brewing Company were instituted today by Sam Collins, federal prohibition director for Kentucky. The prohibition director issued a citation to the corporation to show cause why its permit to manufacture non-intoxicating beverages should not be revoked. The procedure is the result of the seizure of a truck load of beer belonging to the brewing company in an alley near a soft drink stand on North Limestone street.

The hearing of the case has been set for Friday, June 23 in local prohibition offices and will be conducted by Director Collins. Samples from the fifteen barrels of beer seized, upon being analyzed, showed an alcoholic content of 4.150 to 4.75 per cent, according to officers.

C. Stoll at 9 o'clock on July 5.

UNION LEADERS SAY STRIKE JULY 15

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, June 8—Railroad unions continued preparations today for a strike vote with the leaders predicting the referendum would be heavily in favor of suspension of work in protest against the wage reductions ordered by the Railroad Labor Board. These predictions were made in the face of statements by several railroad presidents that the strike sentiment is largely confined to the union leaders and that there is good reason to doubt whether the workers are saturated with it. The labor leaders say the suspension is likely to become effective July 15th.

TELLS HOW TO STOP SMUT IN BARLEY

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., June 7.—Loose smut of barley, held responsible for heavy losses suffered each year by growers of the crop, can be controlled by use of the hot water method of seed treatment, according to results being obtained by four Fayette county farmers who are co-operating with the College of Agriculture extension division and County Agent W. R. Gabbert in showing the value of the treatment.

Yields in their barley fields will be increased one to four bushels an acre by reason of the treatment while yields in many untreated fields in the county will be reduced as much as four bushels an acre, Mr. Gabbert said. In addition, farmers having plots of fields grown from treated seed can grow barley comparatively free from loose smut for several years by using seed from such fields or plots, Mr. Gabbert said.

Smut is especially serious in the county this year, more fields being infested with it than has been the case for a number of years, he added.

In treating their seed last fall, the four farmers soaked it in cold water for four hours, after which it was immersed in a preliminary hot bath at 116 degrees Fahrenheit for from one to two minutes. Following this, it immediately was immersed for 15 minutes in hot water at 126 degrees Fahrenheit. The admissible range of temperature in this case was from 124 to 129 degrees—the hotter the water the shorter the treatment.

The treatment was made with a small amount of expense and little extra equipment, County Agent Gabbert pointed out. Two or three bath tubs, plenty of hot water, a good thermometer and a watch constituted the chief articles of equipment. Two men were able to treat enough seed for 25 acres in half a day, he said. Those who co-operated in conducting the demonstrations were F. P. Frake, W. Clay Shropshire, John Stevenson and Will Weathers.

PEACH CROP HEAVY; APPLES ONLY FAIR

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., June 7.—Fruit prospects in the state at the present time indicate that Kentucky this year will have a fair apple crop and a heavy yield of peaches according to C. W. Matthews, head of the horticultural department of the College of Agriculture. Prospects also are bright for a good crop of small and stone fruits, he added.

Of 20 counties that reported in a survey which has just been completed by the horticultural department, seven of them indicated that they would have normal or better than normal peach crops this year. Reports from Campbell, Nelson and Pulaski counties showed prospects for a 100 per cent crop in these counties, while reports from Daviess, Henderson, Meade and Todd counties indicated that the peach crop this year would be above normal in those four counties. Eleven other counties reported prospects for crops ranging from 75 to 100 per cent normal while Kenton county reported prospects for a 65 per cent crop. The eleven counties reporting prospects for a better than three-fourths crop were: Boyd, Boyle, Breckinridge, Calhoun, Graves, Jefferson, John, Laurel, Rockcastle and Warren.

Tobacco One And Two Years Old Is Sold

Falmouth, Ky., June 8.—Geo. Shelton sold 44 hogsheads of 1920 tobacco to the Kentucky Warehouse Company, Louisville, at ten cents, and John Messmer sold the same buyer 17 hogsheads of 1919 leaf at nine and a half cents, both speculators making a good profit.

Although only four counties, Boyd, Meade, Nelson and Todd, reported prospects for 100 per cent apple crop, many apple growing counties reported prospects for crops three-fourths normal or better. Reports from Boyle, Calloway, Campbell, Daviess, Graves, Laurel, Pulaski and Rockcastle indicated the apple crops in these counties would range from 75 to 100 per cent of normal. Taylor, Jefferson, Henderson, Breckinridge, Kenton and Warren reported prospects for a crop that would be around 50 per cent.

Boyle, Campbell, Laurel, Nelson, Meade and Todd counties reported prospects for a 100 per cent plum crop. Six others reported that their plum crop would be from three-fourths to 100 per cent normal while six other counties reported that the crop would be from 50 to 75 per cent normal.

Reports from the 20 counties that were included in the survey indicated prospects for heavy yields of the smaller and stone fruits. Many of them reported that the crops in these classes of fruits would be 100 per cent, while practically all of the remaining counties reported prospects for at least a three-fourths normal crop or better.

The first wire suspension bridge ever built in the state was erected at Frankfort in 1831.

EGG CANDLING DEMONSTRATION SOON

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., June 8.—Egg candling methods and equipment together with the best methods of handling eggs on the farm, will be explained to produce men, merchants, hucksters, poultry and egg dealers and farmers in ten demonstrations to be held by the College of Agriculture extension division in co-operation with a number of produce houses between now and July 2 at as many different points in the state it has been announced.

The demonstrations will be held primarily for persons, firms and corporations engaged in the buying and selling of eggs, such dealers being required by a new state law to candle eggs which they handle between May 15 of each year and January 15 of the next. However, many points of interest to farmers in connection with candling and the care of eggs will be brought out in the demonstrations, the announcement added.

The schedule for demonstrations, which will be conducted by H. R. Jackson, poultry extension specialist, follows:

June 12, Vine Grove, Grayson county; June 13, Clarkson, Grayson Springs, Grayson county; June 14, Elizabethtown, Hardin county; June 15, Hodgenville, La. rue county; June 17, New Haven, Nelson county; June 26, Harrodsburg, Mercer county; June 27, Burnside, Pulaski county; June 28, Somerset, Pulaski county; June 30, Lebanon, Marion county; July 1, Campbellsville, Taylor county.

In addition to pointing out approved methods of candling and candling devices, the demonstrations will be designed to show dealers how to candle eggs and how to recognize the common grades of eggs as determined by candling. Blood rings, black rots and each of the other common market defects will be shown.

The demonstrations will be of interest to farmers in that they will show them how the dealer determines which eggs are fresh and which ones are unfit for sale, the announcement points out. Farmers also will be shown the various classes of eggs unfit for food and told how to prevent them.

Motoring over with them and returning to Deland for their wedding breakfast were Miss Lavine Stone and Mr. William Spaulding, who attended them at their marriage and bade them good bye on their departure for Ocala where they will spend their honeymoon before making their home after June 15 at Sanford. Mother-To-Be,
Read This—

Here is a wonderful message to all expectant mothers. From this moment on, cast from your mind all dread and fear, and feel every day as the months roll by that you are at freedom from much of the suffering which thousands of expectant mothers undergo, unnecessarily. And when the little one arrives, you can have that moment more free from suffering than you have perhaps imagined. An eminent physician, expert in this science, has shown the way. It was he who first prepared the great remedy, "Mother's Friend," Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says:

"With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It aids the muscles and tissues to expand easily. It penetrates quickly. It contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. There is no substitute. Avoid useless guesses sometimes recommended by the unqualified. "Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists everywhere.

NOTE—Write for valuable, free illustrated book, "Mother's Friend," containing important authoritative information which will enable you to understand the science of safe childbirth, and about "Mother's Friend," a branded medicine company, 224-226 Atlanta, Ga.

AT THE MOVIES

Thrills Aplenty in Hart's
New Picture "Travelin' On"

Gunplay, the like of which has never been seen before, a most unusual hold-up, a vivid thunderstorm—these are but few of the thrills in William S. Hart's latest and most memorable Paramount picture, "Travelin' On," to be shown at local theatres tonight. This is a picture to make even the most hardened film fan sit in that most uncomfortable posture—balanced on the edge of a seat, right from beginning to end, wondering, with bated breath, just how the story is going to end. It is a picture to send the blood coursing through one's veins, and that, surely, is a most desirable thing these days. Mr. Hart wrote the story with that end in view.

Strong Cast in "Jane Eyre"

A splendid cast of musical merit has been assembled for "Jane Eyre," the newest Holmstrom release, which is based on the novel of that name by Charlotte Bronte. "Jane Eyre" will be the feature at local theatres Saturday. Heading the aggregation of notable players are Mabel Ballen and Norman Trevor, neither of whom needs introduction to the stage and screen devotees. Mrs. Ballen plays the part of Jane Eyre, the demure little governess, and Mr. Trevor is seen in the role of Fairfax Rochester, the eccentric but strangely fascinating master of the house. Another important part is played by Elizabeth Arlans, one of the cleverest character women before the camera today.

HER AILMENTS
ALL GONE NOW

Mrs. Sherman Helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lake, Michigan.—"About one year ago I suffered with irregularities and a weakness and at times was obliged to stay off my feet. I declared with our family physician and he finally said he could not understand my case, so I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After I had taken the first bottle I could see that I was getting better. I took several bottles of the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, and I am entirely cured of my ailments. You may publish this letter if you wish."—Mrs. MARY SHERMAN, Route 2, Lake, Mich.

There is one fact women should consider and that is this. Women suffer from irregularities and various kinds of weakness. They try this and that doctor, as well as different medicines. Finally they take Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound, and Mrs. Sherman's experience is simply another case showing the merit of this well-known medicine.

If your family physician fails to help you and the same old troubles persist, why isn't it reasonable to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

TO LAUNCH NEW NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION

EUGENE STUART-LOUISVILLE. CHARLES C. JAMES-COLUMBUS. M. E. NOBLET-INDIANAPOLIS.

A new national organization of motorists to combat automobile theft, to fight discriminatory taxation on the motor vehicle and to promote a transcontinental system of highways will be launched at a convention in Chicago June 18 and 19.

Twelve states already represented in an older affiliation will be joined by automobile clubs from other states in a nation-wide body to be known as the National Automobile Association. The movement had its birth in St. Louis less than a month ago and so eager are automobile owners of the country for an active, protective organization that scores of other automobile clubs are sending delegates to the Chicago conference for formally organizing the new association. Plans for the conference, which will be held at the Congress Hotel in Indianapolis, are in charge of George J. Joseph, Ma.

H. Bird, president of the Illinois State Automobile association, 2300 South Michigan avenue, Chicago. Others on the committee on preliminary organization are: W. W. Woodson, Kansas City, Mo.; Ewing S. Mosely, Dallas, Texas; Fred E. Gillespie, Lincoln, Neb.; Richard H. Lee, Chicago; Eugene Stuart, Louisville, Ky.; Charles C. James, Columbus, Ohio; M. E. Noblet, Indianapolis; M. P. Lawler, St. Joseph, Mo.

Mayfield, Ky., June 8.—Hogs possessed of devils told about in scriptures were scarcely wilder than those which overturned 13 mash barrels in Leader Bottoms and devoured the fermented feed. The barrels and a 50-gallon copper still were found in the underbrush by a raiding squad after the drunken sogs had supplied the tip, and a worm was found concealed half a mile away. Ownership could not be established.

Hail Insurance Rates Reduced
on Tobacco

With the recent reductions of hail storm insurance rates on growing tobacco, in the face of the enormous losses to growers within the last four or five years, every grower can afford to protect himself to the limit and, with safety, go into the business of producing a crop that requires so much money, time and labor, as does tobacco, that should be insured against loss by hail storms.

Now that so many growers have gone into an organization for a more economical, business-like way of handling their crops, and the insurance companies have so lowered rates on hail insurance, there is no reason in the world for any grower to neglect the protection of his crop by ample insurance.

Better see your insurance agent right away and have him protect your crop, which is likely to be destroyed any day by a hail storm. Policies become effective noon, July 10th.

Prof. Chester M. Sanford to Discuss
Problem of Avoiding the Misfit in Industry.

"What shall I do in the world?" is a great problem which interests all of us. Aid in the solution of this problem is afforded by the lecture, "Failures of the Misfits," to be given here at the Redpath Chautauqua by Prof. Chester M. Sanford.

mainly into choosing their proper vocations—to help eliminate misfits in industry and the professions. Every person, young or old, who has the future of America at heart will be vitally interested in this lecture.

The tragedy in many lives is the attempt to succeed in one line of work when ability and inclinations point in an entirely different direction. Many a man who would succeed in business would be a failure as a physician and vice versa.

Professor Sanford's lecture gives valuable suggestions concerning the choosing of a vocation.

LAST REUNION AT CONFEDERATE CAPITAL

Richmond, Va., June 5.—Between 40,000 and 50,000 visitors from Maryland to Texas, it is estimated, will be here for the 32d annual Reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, which will take place on June 20-22. Of this number, it is figured, there will be present about 5,000 of the 45,000 surviving Confederate soldiers.

Practically all of the old gray coats coming for their annual roll call will be accompanied by one or more members of their families. Reduced railroad rates of 1 cent a mile have been granted them by all the transportation systems throughout the Southeast. In addition, there will be sponsors named by the three departments, the Department of Northern Indiana, the Department of Tennessee and the Department of Transmississippi, and each state division. Some camps are expected to name sponsors. There will also be hundreds of maids and matrons-of-honor.

This great assembly will be further increased by the presence of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, United Daughters of the Confederacy and members of the Confederate Southern Memorial Association. These also will have the advantage of reduced railroad fares, the transportation companies having consented to sell round trip tickets to Richmond and return at the rate of a one-way fare.

Reduced rate tickets will be placed on sale at all points in ample time to allow all veterans and other visitors to reach Richmond on or before June 19. The conventions of the Sons, Daughters and Memorial Association will open on that date, while the program of the Reunion proper will not start until the following day, all ending on June 22.

Identification certificates have been sent out by the Richmond Reunion Committee to all Confederate and auxiliary organizations for distribution to the veterans and others and these alone will entitle travelers to the privilege of the reduced fares.

This year Richmond will provide comfortable quarters for the veterans. At the last Reunion here they slept on cots in tents or barracks, but that was seven years ago. The age of the old soldiers now forbids them from this privation which they formerly looked upon as a lark.

Upon reaching the city every veteran will be met and required to register, after which an official Reunion badge will be issued. Those who have not made reservations in advance will be assigned quarters in private homes or boarding houses. A large mess hall will be opened, and here dinner and supper will be served during the meeting to the veterans who wish to eat there.

This is undoubtedly the last of the big Confederate Reunions which can be held in the former capital of the Confederate States and for that reason Richmond is sparing no expense in providing a royal welcome and elaborate entertainment for the visitors.

One of the most interesting features of the Reunion will be the laying of a cornerstone of a monument to Matthew Fontaine Maury, "Pathfinder of the Seas" and hero of the Confederate navy. Richmond has done much for the Confederate soldier and now wants to pay the same tribute to the Confederate sailor.

JUNIOR CLUBS TO ENJOY CAMPING OUT

(By Associated Press)

Lexington, Ky., June 8.—Twenty four junior agricultural club camps lasting four days each will be held for farm boys and girls of 40 counties of the state during July and August, according to an announcement by C. W. Buckler, state leader of junior agricultural club work at the College of Agriculture. Indications are that at least 4,000 youngsters will attend the camps, he said.

The idea for summer camps for farm boys and girls of the state has experienced a marked growth since the first tried in the state in 1920, three camps being held that year. Mr. Buckler said. Last year 22 were staged with an attendance of 1700 boys and girls and 3800 visitors, while indications are that this year's schedule of camps will establish a record in the number of children who attend.

Three series of camps will be conducted simultaneously through the two months. M. S. Garside, G. J. McKenney and J. M. Feltner, all junior agricultural club field agents, being the respective managers. In some cases, a number of counties will combine in staging their camps.

The schedule of the different series follows, the first named county in each case being the one in which the camp will be held:

First series: July 3, Lewis; Fleming; July 10, Rockcastle; July 17, Lee, Powell, Owsley, Breathitt, Perry and Morgan; July 24, Knox, Clay, Harlan; July 31, Laurel, Jackson; August 7, Whitley, McCreary; August 14, Putaski, Lincoln, Wayne; August 21, Lawrence, Boyd, Knox.

Second series: July 3, Simpson; July 10, Warren, Butler; July 17, Washington; July 24, Marion; July 31, Taylor; August 7, Nelson; August 14, Barren; August 21, Hart and Lenoir.

Third series: July 3, Christian; Todd; July 10, Graves; July 17, Webster, Henderson, Hopkins, Muhlenberg; July 24, Crittenden; August 7, Boone; August 14, Boone; August 21, Boone; August 21, Boone.

Throughout the four days of each camp, the youngsters will follow a balanced program of study and play, the camps being designed to furnish inspiration and learning, seasoned with temperate recreation. Mr. Buckler said. Character forming habits of interest, industry, imagination, order and personal health also will be encouraged, he said.

Ample leadership will be provided at each of the camps to direct the various activities. Mr. Buckler said. County and home demonstration agents, specialists from the college, representatives of the State Y. M. C. A., the State Department of Agriculture, local leaders, local ministers and doctors and nurses will have an active part.

Says Golf Will Become

Our National Pastime

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., June 6.—Golf, although still in the infant stage in this country, is destined to become the national pastime, according to W. H. (Bertie) Way, professional at the Mayfield Golf Club here.

"Baseball can't be beat as an entertaining sport for the masses," he said, "but when it comes to actual personal enjoyment in one's own achievements, there is no greater field than golf."

When asked why Cleveland cannot boast a player of national championship calibre, Way replied by stating that fewer players practice golf in Cleveland than in any city of its size in the world.

"They give too much thought to playing the game and not enough time to practice, which is the greatest asset approaching perfection," he said. "To reach championship ability they should play less, learn the correct fundamentals of the game and practice incessantly."

POMP AT ROYAL WEDDING IN BALKANS

(By Associated Press)

Belgrade, June 8.—Elaborate preparations were taken to guard King Alexander and Princess Marie of Rumania, during their wedding festivities here today. The entire route of the nuptial party from the palace to cathedral was lined with a double row of soldiers with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets. They were ordered to shoot immediately if they notice any suspicious movement among the spectators.

Belgrade, June 8.—Mediaeval pomp and splendor marked the wedding here today of King Alexander of Yugoslavia and Princess Marie of Rumania. Nearly every nation in the old and new world was represented at the ceremony which linked the dynasties of three Balkan countries, forming a powerful barrier against future wars in this turbulent part of Europe. The event probably will remain unmatched for a long time in Balkan annals for its political significance; the lavishness and beauty of its settings; the enthusiasm and fervor of the people; the picturesqueness of the processions, and the quaintness of the presents to the bride and groom.

The bridal gown was an antique creation of white crepe georgette, with long court train, unadorned in pure silver and crystals, and the Princess wore over her tulle veil a shower of scintillating gold strands. She was a picture of girlish beauty, dignity and grace as she was escorted to the altar by her father, King Ferdinand of Rumania. From her shoulders fell a large court mantle in brilliant silver, at the lower end of which the double arms of Rumania and Yugoslavia were embroidered in silver and gold. King Alexander presented his bride with a massive crown of gold, set with diamonds and rubies, each province of Yugoslavia having contributed a precious stone to the diadem.

The king, who entered the church arm in arm with Queen Marie, his future mother-in-law, wore the bright full dress uniform of a Serbian General. His best man was the Duke of York, son of King George of England.

The Queen of Rumania, who has come to be known as the "Mother-in-Law of the Balkans" looked almost as youthful as the daughter she gave in marriage. She dominated the entire ceremony, and next to the bride was easily the most conspicuous and charming figure in the Cathedral. When she was not receiving the congratulations of her friends, she was busy giving directions for the execution of the wedding.

The marriage was solemnized by the Serbian Patriarch in the ancient Byzantine Cathedral of Belgrade. In accordance with a Serbian custom, there was no civil ceremony. As the bride and groom walked up the aisle a Te Deum was sung, the marble altar resplendent in porphyry and gold was tastefully decorated with lilies and roses, among which the national colors of Rumania and Yugoslavia were intertwined. The wedding was followed by a gala luncheon at the palace, at which the representatives of the foreign royal families, cabinet members and government officials were guests. In the afternoon there was a procession of deputations from the various Serbian provinces, dressed in national costumes.

The day's events closed with a magnificent banquet at the palace in the evening on plates of gold, the King and new Queen leaving shortly after for their castle in Beed, Slovenia, for their honeymoon.

Queen Marie, of Rumania, in speaking of the marriage, expressed her satisfaction and added: "The marriage unites the old Rumanian family with the younger dynasty of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes. The Yugoslavs are especially happy because King Ferdinand and myself are connected with so many of the royal families of Europe. They consider it is a stroke of good fortune for them and their future that their King should be a Rumanian princess."

RIVER HERO HAS SAVED MANY LIVES

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., June 6—The advent of a medal usually is an event in the Great American Home. Little Willie steals out his big brother's Croix de Guerre and is the hero of the school; father makes his way to the championship of the local golf club and loses his vest buttons when the president pins the gold-plated palm branches on his lapel; sister Susie carries off first honors in the high school essay contest and the trophy shares the place of honor in the family museum with the silver spoon Uncle George brought home from the World's Fair.

But medals fail to hold unusual interest for John J. Tully, of Louisville, a follower of the river for fifty-five years and longer. He has a chest full of medals, so one more or less doesn't really matter to him.

Not that "Captain" Tully's medals do not mean anything. Back of his collection of trophies is a story, a real life story of 52 chapters. Each chapter is concerned with the saving from death in the river of somebody's father, or mother, sweetheart, brother, husband or wife. For Captain Tully has entered the arena with death and emerged victor sixty-two times during his career as a river man.

Today he sits in his little shop near the river and ties nets and weaves hammocks and dreams perchance of the days when there were giants in the river trade.

It was in 1862 that Captain Tully began running his skiffs along the river. He was born to the river, he thinks, and has been rescued himself on two occasions, the time he drifted nearly to the brink of the falls in an open boat and again when he was dragged from the current by the ferryman's hook, caught in the slack of his jacket. That was long before he had tumbled into his teens.

For ten years after he had started in on the river, before the United States Coast Guard station was established, he lived on the river front near the foot of Fifth street. It was during that period that he won most of his medals.

His mementoes include one from three shoemakers he saved in 1879; oars and a star with the regards of Charles E. Collins and John M. Hill, 1884; one from the state of Kentucky, 1880, and the first class Congressional reward "for heroic services in saving several persons from drowning," inscribed 1874.

In a ledger, stiff and discolored with old glue, he has kept the newspaper accounts of his rescues. Even his wife he saved from the river, dragging her to safety on a pile of driftwood after she had fallen from a boat during a storm. Sitting under the awning of his back porch Captain Tully dreams of the time when the lighthouse will be built above the falls. It would serve not only to warn the down-bound boats of the danger ahead, he points out, but equipped with a steam capstan, it would provide a means for drawing upstream plying craft past the rapid water.

He has been corresponding with congressional representatives and hopes that before long a lighthouse shaft will rise and a light house bell will toll across the foggy sweep of water that he has fought and loved for years.

The State Highway Department during 1921 let a contract for 29.2 miles of grade and drain work on roads in Breckinridge county. The county has no other state maintenance roads than these.

LEGION NEWS

Fifteen ex-soldiers have formed a post of the American Legion exactly on a spot in Harport, Asia Minor, they say, where Adam and Eve first kept house. The unit is called the Garden of Eden post, American Legionnaires in Turkey 257 number 216.

When Stilwell, Okla., was hit by a black smallpox epidemic, a guard of 185 American Legion men kept the town quarantined by guarding all roads and railroads day and night for three weeks.

Within Reason

Just as the guards were leading his client away, the lawyer stopped and shook hands sadly with the recent defendant.

"I'm sorry I couldn't do more for you, old man," he apologized. "Don't mention it, sir," replied the prisoner, politely. "Ain't 5 years enough?"—American Legion Weekly.
